

THE KRYON TEACHINGS

Channeled by Mario Liani

The Kryon Group is the name that Mario Liani uses to describe the loving energy of Kryon. This energy is not a single entity, but a higher consciousness group of angelic realms that operates without individuality and with absolute synchronicity. Kryon is channeled in several languages by different spokespersons around the world. Mario Liani is just another channel for Kryon in the Spanish language.

Questions and Answers (1st Trimester 2005)

Channeled on 4/18/2005

Question No. 1

Dear Mario:

First of all, I would like to introduce myself, since more than likely, you have no idea who I am or why I'm writing to you.

Well, I don't know either. I think I know I am a child of God and that I am in this world for a reason unknown to me, and I don't know why I am writing to tell you this, it's so embroiled. My life is like this: I am in chaos, assaulted by doubts, insecurities and roads I never travel, and I am in the midst of the very nothingness.

My name is J. M. and I am the youngest of six siblings. I am 46 years old. I studied marketing and for the last 20 years I have struggled with work, family and love. In the last two years, I have been trying to find an explanation, I have become close to people and groups hoping to find someone who would give me some guidance and help, so here I am. But I must point out that I have great faith in God and Christ. I know they love me and I know that I have to show them that I love them too.

But life, work, money and loneliness bring me down and my head stops functioning properly. I know that I am the only one responsible for everything that happens to me; I am gathering my harvest, so to speak. I wish to change my life, my friend, but I don't know where to begin.

I apologize for bothering you with my silliness, but I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Answer No. 1

Dear, do not apologize so much for what you cannot achieve, because that keeps you away from your power, which needs to be activated by carefully choosing the next steps to take. It is true that you have harvested what you planted...then, why don't you stop planting what you don't want to harvest and begin to plant what you would like to harvest later on?

If you persist in being wrapped up in your musings, you cannot perceive what is around you, since all you have to do is set your eyes on something to activate the consequences of your observation? Look around you and tell your eyes to see what is waiting to be seen and experienced by you.

What to do now? You have to begin with yourself, begin to take an interest in everything that makes you feel good. Choose with care what you wish to have around you, so that you only have beauty and harmony, block what you don't want.

Do not wait for situations to come to you. Decide what you wish to have come to your life, so that the decision that you make identifies itself with you completely.

Remember this: harmony and balance always recognize each other...

Question No. 2

Mario, a special greeting from Bogota, Colombia.

I am happy to hear you are a channel for Kryon, this way It feels closer to home. I must confess that I was a bit skeptical in the beginning, but I don't doubt anymore and I hope that you can receive messages focused on solutions for the Latin countries.

So I would like to ask for a special favor. The next time you channel Kryon, I want you to please convey my message and questions.

"Kryon, I want you to know that I love you very much. I began reading your messages about two years ago and they always touch me so deeply I cry from the pure emotion that fills my entire being. I have a son whom I considered a very special being. I want you to tell me what I can do for him. Also, I want you to tell me what else I can do for myself so that I can serve others."

Answer No. 2

Dear, your son is like a diamond in the rough with a radiant inner light, which you can only partially perceive. This gem needs to be cut and polished with great care, rough layer after rough layer, in order to find the true brilliance clamoring to come out, which you can now perceive but not completely.

What do you do with a diamond in the rough? You already know this: you cut, polish and shine time and time again, with energy but also with care and love, without losing sight of the essence of that which you cannot see but only perceive. You, mother, are like an artisan who has the responsibility to help in the creation of a unique gem, which, after being polished and shine, by the combination of your impeccable attention and loving hands, will be ready to fulfill its duty, which is no other than to bring light to others.

The intensity of the light this gem will have will depend on the kind of polishing and shining work the artisan does.

If you understand what the Group has expressed to you today, then you have understood that you don't need to understand what to do, you only need to know how.

Question No. 3

Kryon, spiritually speaking, what is going on with the people of San Fernando de Apure (Venezuela)? When are the Lightworkers coming here? How much longer do C. and M have to stay in Apure? Are we anchors? We will appreciate it very much if you clarify this for us.

Answer No. 3

Dear C. and M., the Kryon Group wishes to let you know that, just as you perceive, you are anchors of light in the region where you live. You were taken there for that purpose and you have understood the service you were to perform. Thank you for the service you are doing, others will be attracted to your light and they will help you and later relieve you of your duty.

As far as the time you need to stay, this will end when you feel the call to end it. Just pay attention to the signs Spirit will give you: they will be a sure sign of the changes to come.

Spirit honors the mission you have volunteered to accomplish and lovingly asks that you avoid thoughts of hopelessness. You are advised to be grateful for everything you have; your own gratitude will generate greater abundance in all aspects of your life.

Question No. 4

My dear cosmic friend, Kryon, there is much fear and anxiety in me regarding who I really am (a being of light), and as such, why don't I feel my guardian angels? Why don't I sense my guides?

Why? If my intention is the only thing needed to make the jump to the new energy coming from the center of the universe and leave the old energies behind and everything that means suffering, sacrifice, pain and fear.

What am I doing that is keeping me from connecting and feeling this new energy of change where I won't allow pain, suffering, sacrifice and fear? Or do I have to follow 30,000 steps in order to get there?

This is where things don't click. If I am a being of light and belong to the cosmos, then, why can't I do it? Or is it exclusive to a certain group?

Greetings from my imperfect heart.

F.S. - Caracas, Venezuela

Answer No. 4

Dear F., bless you for feeling so much fear and for underestimating yourself enough to call yourself "imperfect"! Bless you, because the veil of duality is very active in you, which is what won't allow you to perceive that you are a real human angel in a learning state.

We bless you because this is what all is about. What worries you so much is the crux of you learning as an evolving angel: to find out who you are and how to transmute the veil that divides and hides your true being.

Your guides are hiding and you probably won't be seeing them, but you can feel them. They are constantly manifesting through your thoughts, thoughts that you think are yours alone, and through your original creations, and mostly, through your doubts and anxieties, those that move you to find out more about yourself, those that pushed you to write to Kryon.

Kryon tells you now to switch your perception and click that inter-dimensional switch, so that you can perceive that, what you describe as "fears, pain and sacrifices" are only part of the learning processes that tempers your soul in order to teach you what you came here to learn in a human body. When you become aware that fear is an interpretation of life, you will understand that you can change that interpretation for another one. Fear is an interpretation about the uncertainty of the unknown. Why not change that interpretation for one that says "What opportunities will the unknown bring me?"

And lastly, Kryon lovingly suggests that you try not to attach yourself to too many results and too many responsibilities, since they can rob you of the joy and beauty of the unexpected, or living in the present moment, which is the Now.

Question No. 5

I have only one question for Kryon, but it's a three-part question:

Is SRT (Spiritual Response Therapy) legitimate?

Is this the path to my healing or is some other method? And much is contain in the last part...What do you have to tell me, beloved Kryon?

Answer No. 5

Dear A., all the healing tools you use to heal yourselves and to heal others have been channeled from Spirit to give you a plethora of options as far as the qualities of each one.

Each one has rules and procedures that are not compatible with all healers. Each one vibrates with the evolutionary potential of the healer.

Healer, do you identify with that tool? Are you satisfied with it and the results you obtain with it? Do you feel you should be doing something else, perhaps integrating this tool with other tools (traditional or not)? Only you have the answers, dear.

Kryon says, dear, that you should continue your diligent search for your place in that expression of life. If you are not satisfied with what you do, you still have not reached that physical and human situation that reproduces Home. Home here and now is to feel, no more and no less, perfectly realized and happy doing what you do.

Question No. 6

I have some questions for Kryon:

1) Does the Bible code contain information about us and everything that has happened and will happen on Earth? Are the two books written by Michael Drosnin reliable, as well as the studies from the Russian mathematician Elyahu Rips?

2) I have written a book about the Indigos and it's hard to find a publisher for it. What is the next step? What to do? What is my role and mission in relation to the Indigos?

I. C. - Brazil

Answer No. 6

Dear I., bless the innocent human who does something without being conscious of what they have done, and what they have done contains hidden potentials that will see the light at the opportune moment!

When the Bible was written, it was written for a determined level of knowledge, which obeyed the parameters of the times and a certain amount of manipulation. However, what no one could imagine is that this manipulation was also channeled!

The results now obtained when the mathematical codes from the Book of Books are applied, were foreseen potentials of manifestation for Now. The two interpretations you talk about merely represent two of the potential layers that have been peeled off to give way to specific information that had remained hidden for centuries.

The message in all of this is simple: when you write something in the Now, you are literally doing it Now. When the Bible was written and compiled, the potential of what was and is, the eternal infinity, was there, like everything else you do. Can you see the wonder in all of this?

What I said before applies to the book you have written Now. There is a potential for manifestation in it that will come to light at the right moment. The important thing is that you reflect on the way it was written, how you did it and how much unconscious information was codified in layers of interpretation. This reflection will probably cause you to revise what is written and to add whatever is missing so that your creation is "ready" to see the light "Now."

After you revise what you have written, you will discover for yourself the role you are to play with the Indigo children.

Question No. 7

Hello Mario, thank you for sending all the stuff you send about Kryon. I wanted to tell you that I write poetry and a few days ago, I wrote a poem for Kryon. Can you make sure he gets it? Here it is:

May the light from your eyes envelope my spaces
Kryon
Name sweet as nectar,
You shelter my words
Friend of my dreams
Warm
Smiles
Perfect timing

Answer No. 7

Dear M, Spirit blesses your sensitivity and encourages you to continue using it, mainly to channel the enthusiasm and idealism you possess, and to balance it with your impulsiveness. This would be the greatest service that you can do for yourself.

We are always in your dreams, dear, and that is perfect timing because there is no time in dreams. It's only Now.

Question No. 8

Greetings!

It's good to know that we have someone who channels the Kryon Group in Venezuela! I always ask questions and even though I know Kryon answers, I feel insecure because my mind is always distracting me with doubts, hence the need to ask two short questions through you. I would appreciate your help so that I can eliminate my doubts once and for all. Thank you.

Dear Kryon:

I founded an organization named "Movimiento Sentir Nacional." If my heart wants to tell me something through you, anything you can tell me about the organization, I will be honored. Thank you.

E.B. – Venezuela

Answer No. 8

Dear E., we bless you for wanting to help others through the light of the organization you founded.

This organization represents the materialization of your intention to protect others, because you are a natural born protector. Through your organization, you have put in motion a mechanism that will materialize one of your missions.

Your organization represents the idealization of the feelings of the human race for your own evolution. Therefore, take care to always respect the feelings of others and connect them with your surroundings.

Spirit lovingly suggests you stop doubting yourself and your capabilities, which are centered mainly in the love you feel for others. However, make sure you do not fall in the extremes that could come from this love: control and overprotection.

Question No. 9

My name is G. K. I am an admirer and follower of the Kryon Group, I am happy to hear you are the Spanish channel of our dear Magnetic Angel.

If it's not too much to ask, I would appreciate it if you can tell me how to remember so that I can reunite with Family and Home. Like you said in your article, I am a searcher of the truth. I have learned much from the teachings of Kryon, but I don't know what to do with it. I lovingly ask for your help. Thank you.

Answer No. 9

Dear G., Your family and Home are here in the Now of your life, as long as you want to communicate with them.

When you fully accepted the commitment to incorporate yourselves to the process of the spiritual ascension of humanity, you did it knowing that there was a great potential to identify yourselves with aspects of your evolutionary work that would allow you to feel fulfilled and happy in service.

This is what it's all about, dear. The reunion with Home is here and Now. Try to find out what it is that you love so much, to the point that what you do makes you feel happy and fulfilled and at peace with yourself.

If you have not achieved that, try to find it, chase it, that way you will be after what you desire so much. You have many potentials to experience. Everything that you learn with intention will open a window of opportunity towards that sweet place. Infinity surrounds you...what are you waiting for?

Question No. 10

I would like to thank you for collaborating with people like me, and I seek channeled information from Kryon, I would like him to talk about numerology (11, 22, 33, 44, 55, etc.) and about the chakras and their influence on our state of consciousness.

I reiterate my gratitude –this address is from Zaragoza, Spain.

Answer No. 10

Hello V., thank you for expressing your worries (I apologize for the delay in answering).

I understand your interest in numerology, which is also mine, but I am answering to tell you that I cannot place specifics on the agenda of the Kryon Group, as I feel a certain pressure to transmit what they intend, and that could be more urgent.

However, I would like to assure you that I would keep your request in mind. As far as your other question, here is Kryon's answer:

Dear V., your questions regarding the influence of the chakras on the human's state of consciousness involves a large and complex subject with many ramifications, which cannot be tackled in the context of a short answer.

However, we wish to please you and we tell you that the chakras are to human consciousness what electricity is to wiring. The chakras are in charge of capturing and administering the energy that feeds the entire system, the physical functions as well as chemical, biological, spiritual and mental operations are dependant upon them.

The regulation of energy that controls the human entity through their function - balanced or not- makes it possible for this entity to have certain experiences, including transcendental experiences. Everything stored in your cellular memory as well as your DNA depend on this system, of which we could say that is electromagnetic.

The magnetic oscillations of the electromagnetic human field, whatever they are, can connect the human to certain aspects of his eternal consciousness, which is responsible for your spiritual growth. These oscillations activate the magnetic fields found in the cellular strata, and these in turn, now activated and potentialized, tell the rest of the team about specific processes that will trigger certain experiences.

In other words, when the human being labors for his own evolutionary state, he puts in motion certain levels of electromagnetic frequencies propagated in the chakras, which are in charge of magnetically activating potentials embedded in your body.

Remember that your body is a radio receptor that stores information.

Question No. 11

Mario, please ask Kryon why do I fail to create the abundance I hoped for after asking for the neutral implant. I will be eternally grateful.

I urgently need a job! I think I am being guided to become a teacher. I am grateful to Spirit for the help. I have an aptitude for listening and guiding people in their process of emotional pain, and I feel I am on the right track and would like to do this.

Kryon, can you give guidance on my personal process? I would like to ask: How am I doing, dear Kryon? Also, please tell him that I often call on him at night but he has not honored me with a visit... or has he? I hear voices with messages related to my personal life and the planetary moment.

Also, I have ringing in my ears and hear special tones, particularly on the left side. What is this and where does it come from? It increases daily with the flower of life, Merkaba meditation.

Thank you, Kryon and Mario, I hope to be honored with an answer.

Answer No. 11

Dear P., you are blessed for having so many doubts, it is your own duality that won't allow you to see the Mastership you demonstrate by handling with integrity your personal processes in the labyrinth you have created yourself.

Generally, the human is at fault for creating, by himself and for himself, the intricate labyrinths where he gets lost. We can call them "contradictions."

Yes, dear, your own contradictions are causing you that existential anguish which is very common in the healers of these times. You heal others emotionally, but it's hard to heal yourself. What a contradiction! We have spoken much of this.

You said it yourself in your question: you heal others and acquire mastership through someone else's processes and your own. What do you think you are doing? You are creating a magnificent potential of personal healing and growth, fertile soil for the tree of wisdom to grow, fertilized with the wisdom acquired during your experiential processes.

What do you think is the neutral implant? It's about accepting the commitment of your own personal evolution, knowing that you will have to face your own contradictions and defeat them without fear. To ask for the neutral implant means to gracefully accept the fact that you will face your own enemies in order to defeat them on your own turf and not theirs. Their turf is the fear they create in you. Your turf is the courage that you increase so that you can win.

The ringing in your ears, the voices you hear are nothing but the side effects of this fight you have with yourself. Allow it to be and you will see how your fear will be replaced with certainty and the unshakable faith that you will one day have everything you wish.

Don't ask for abundance if you are afraid of not having a job with a salary that covers your basic needs. That is fear. Not to be afraid is to throw yourself, body and soul in the accomplishment of those activities you believe in with all your heart; activities in which you have placed all your hopes and wagers because you believe in them. That is faith.

Keep your faith alive and feed it with your passion, so that the fear of the unknown leaves shaking...with fear!

Question No. 12

At this time of my life, I have gone through an experience that left me branded, and has caused me to learn. If it is at all possible, I ask that you give me some direction because I do have doubts on occasion and I think that I should do something for myself and my daughter; however, I don't know what it is. Also, there are times when I feel guilty for the following:

On September 9, 2003, my daughter underwent nasal surgery performed by an otorhinolaryngologist. Inexplicably, the doctor perforated my daughter's right eye orbit causing her to lose her sight in that eye; she also now has outer strabismus.

At that time, a doctor who had been away from Venezuela for 12 years came into our lives. He is an ophthalmological surgeon in Los Angeles (USA), he is also an investigator for the Children's Hospital in that city and a professor.

He has been treating my daughter but didn't want to operate on her again, because there are too many risks, since the ocular muscle was damaged and the vision will not return.

My daughter has handled the situation in a way that to me is inexplicable. She is admired and respected by students and teachers alike, because she says that her problems do not prevent her from being herself and has given her the courage to do many things, and that she doesn't mind being that way.

Through all of this, I have always felt God very close to us. He has given us courage and strength that we have shared with those who have come into our lives: people with the highest spiritual level and extraordinary love for their profession and other human beings.

The doctor who performed the surgery is still with us, and my daughter feels sorry for her because she suffers; my daughter says that it was not her intention to cause her harm and that she needs more help than her.

I feel that there is a lot more to this situation than what I have told you, and that I should help my daughter even more, but I don't have enough trust to consult other doctors. I believe in what this doctor is doing for my daughter, but at the same time, it pains me that I cannot do more for her. I ask myself sometimes what happened, why she has to live with this and why are we so uncertain as to what to do next.

Mario, if you can give me some guidance I will appreciate it. I am grateful for your attention to this letter.

R. L. – Caracas, Venezuela

Answer No. 12

Dear R., Spirit has many ways to manifest situations where the human has to face aspects of himself which, if given a choice, he would never choose to confront.

This is the reason your daughter came to you. She came to teach you, with all the love possible, evolutionary aspects that have more to do with you than her: mercy, acceptance, understanding, forgiveness, respect, strength, optimism, friendship and unconditional love.

She, as an entity without a body, accepted this situation she is now facing in human form in order to teach you what you have experienced so far. The doctor was only a divine instrument for the execution of the grand plan.

You have the answer when you state that you have been surrounded by people of high spiritual level. The purpose for all that you had to endure was to acquire an inter-dimensional vision of what happened, disconnecting from what appears to be, meaning the incident with the surgery and its immediate consequences, so that you could see the potentials with a renewed vision.

Every one of you has something to learn from this. We already talked about you. Your daughter is an evolved spirit who will use this incident and the loss of her vision to show the world that she doesn't need the missing eye to be who she is and to teach others that humans can rise above physical limitations. By the way, that is the mission of so many entities who have overcome their physical limitations.

Is a great role and Spirit honors her for that. And you, dear, you are the great mother who will be with her through everything she decides to undertake, without pity, encouraging her whenever necessary and helping her look ahead.

With regard to the possibility of another operation, I lovingly advise that you don't do it now. Now is not important, as all the potentials have unfolded. Spirit honors you and augurs great potential for spiritual growth for both of you and for all of those who are connected with this life lesson.

Question No. 13

In the Ten Commandments of the Book of Moses –of the Essene tradition, translated from the Aramaic language, I believe by Edmond Bordeaux Szekely- we found the rule: “Thou shalt not take the life from any living thing. Life comes only from God, who giveth it and taketh it away.”

My questions are: Is it true that Moses, on his first time up on mount Sinai, was give a different message from the one he received the second time he went up, a text known as the Ten Commandments? What does the rule: “Thou shalt not take the life from any living thing,” encompasses? I believe that the tale of Adam and Eve, the tree, apple and the snake is a metaphor... What is Kryon’s interpretation? Will I stop eating meat, seafood, and poultry someday?

Answer No. 13

Dear T., Spirit blesses your critical sense and your eager and constant search for answers that your thirsty soul need in order to quiet your intellectual and spiritual anxiety.

However, spirit also tells you try not to anchor yourself to the literal meaning of the written word y to go beyond the parameters of the lines and paragraphs, so that you can assimilate the intention behind the texts in their totality.

Try to give yourself the answers that you ask from others.

The written word is only a medium or a channel to manifest and transmit a teaching, which is generally powerful and comes with a strong intention, in the same way you are receiving these words.

There is a powerful intention to help you dispel the veil in front of your eyes.

As far as your question about the message given to Moses, he received two messages, but both contained the same intention. In fact, it was necessary for him to listen to the message in two different versions, so that he could process and transmit it, just as he did, given his own interpretation of what he had received.

The messages from Spirit are not literal: they come wrapped in hidden wisdom behind several layers and only the human who is blessed with inter-dimensional vision can discover that there is more than one layer and one interpretation. That is why you invite you not to be so literal in your interpretations; try to apply an inter-dimensional vision to everything you study, but mostly to what surrounds you, we kindly tell you that you don’t always paying attention.

The rule you speak of is only a social adaptation of the message that was codified for Moses. Not to take the life of any living things refers to the fact that humans should not interfere with other’s free will. In essence, to take someone’s life is to take someone’s right to decide what to do with that life, taking over their will. The rest of the rule is an interpretation adjusted to the human vision that is not compatible with the needs for food and shelter of those times and much less the present time. This is a misinterpretation of the essence of the message. Therefore, you must know that the tale of Adam and Eva is an allegory adapted for the Christian religious vision.

And lastly, you will only stop eating meat if you are convinced that this is best for your health or your spiritual evolution. As they say in the English language, which you speak, "It is up to you."

Question No. 14

Dear Mario,

I am writing this note because I feel the need to share with you some things about myself. I apologize, because I know that you don't have much spare time. But I need to share something of my truth so that you can help me. All right?

One of the most difficult things for me has been to confront this world since I was born with left over memory. You have no idea of the loneliness I grew up with (human loneliness). When I was a small child, every night I used to look at the sky and ask myself: What are they doing? I always felt that my real family was not here and that behind the sky that the world sees, there exists life, true life. I grew up with sadness in my heart, feeling the rift; no one could understand what was wrong with me. To my family and the rest of the world, I was always strange, crazy. I felt that I was stuck here and the rest of the world there. But I was absolutely convinced that my truth was real.

As a result of all of the above, there came a time that it was so difficult to continue living that I decided to become human -within my limits, obviously. And the greatest struggle, dear Mario, has been to accept my human condition. In my personal life, I have two failed marriages (a 21-year-old daughter from the first marriage, an 11-year-old girl and a beautiful boy of six from the second marriage). Two years ago I understood that if I am to be in a relationship, it must be with someone who feels in spirit the same way I do, and to this day, I have not met him yet, so I have decided to remain alone.

After very intense processes in my life, and hating most of them, I have come to understand. In the last three years, my life has begun to make sense; I have come to understand that everything is in preparation, and I have been able to help others who have come to me asking for help. I have been able to help them due to my own experience. Now, when I read the Kryon messages, I cry with emotion... Everything makes sense within me. How could it not, that's my family! That family I always knew existed. Do you realize what this means to me?

Lately, I have been working more consciously, trying to clean up everything that has accumulated within myself in all the times my spirit has reincarnated on earth. I am trying to heal the wounds that I allow in my ignorance.

Beloved Mario, fellow traveler, I have searched for the truth all my life and my hands are tired of digging the earth in my search. Only recently, I have understood that what I searched for is within me. Sometimes, when I manage to quiet down the storms within me, I have been able to hear spirit. What spirit has been telling me in the last eight months is that I must leave this city. I have no idea how this is going to happen. What it's clear is that I must head for the southern part of my country, because I have visualized a place with thick vegetation where there is a lake and mountains. I now live in northern Chile, where there is only desert. At this time, there is no bridge, but I'll continue driving because I know that there is a road that is unknown to me but spirit will show it to me at the right time.

Well, I have told you everything, first, because I know that you understand what I am talking about, and secondly, because I am asking you for a gift.

I feel that Kryon is a state of consciousness of the Essence, like Christ. And I want ask if you can gift me with a message from him –he or them, or the totality, they know me, I know this, but I can't hear them. I want you to be the channel. I know that if it is possible, you will do this for me, if not, don't worry, it's alright too.

I also feel that the reading you will do for me will be very helpful. I saw what you did with the Kryon name, and, it's amazing! I don't know anything about the science of numerology, but I feel that it is one of the great blessings of this world.

Dear Mario, I again apologize for the long message, but I need your guidance and I wanted you to learn a little more about me so that you can understand how important and necessary this is for me.

A sisterly hug and all the blessing of heaven to someone who is from heaven.

C.

Answer No. 14

Dear C., Spirit knows who you are and why you are here, a place that up until recently you didn't considered sweet home. Now you know that Home is here, within you, and everything on the outside matters very little.

We know who you are and also know that you are now ready to make the jump, without worrying whether there is a safety net or not, because if you have faith you can create magic, and you will create the safety net when you need it, from nothing, at the right time.

Everything is perfect because everything has its moment, and Kryon tells you that Now is your moment. Do not doubt and walk forward without fear as you are being instructed from the world of dreams. Everything will fall into place when you see what you have already seen in your dreams, which are multi-dimensional aspects of the activated now.

Renew your faith constantly and embrace your children with all your heart, because they are part of your plan. When you hug them with the intention you need to put in a hug that is not physical –it's a "hug" from the heart- you will receive from them the potential you need to learn more details about the future that you have chosen for yourself. Remember that you are the master of your own road and you map it out with your decisions.

You will receive a message very soon regarding decisions and how to activate them ("The energy of action in the service of intention"). When you get it, you will understand.

There is no need to say anymore. We have been with you always and we would never abandon each other. We are one and you know that, don't you?

Question No. 15

I wanted to ask, what do you do when the decisions are up to someone else? For example the search for a job that will give you the income to stand on your feet? You then have to make decisions you're not happy with because you only achieve the minimum and what is absolutely necessary to survive. As a result you are not happy. In truth, I don't understand.

Answer No. 15

Dear P., Spirit honors your doubts, they characterize your great effort to get out of the duality that has entrapped you and that keeps you from seeing beyond appearances.

The apparent decisions of others are nothing more than inter-dimensional aspects that are part of your program. If you could use your divine vision, you would realize that they (the "wrong" decision) force you to follow a necessary path for your learning and purification, which you may not perceive right now due to your duality and above all, because of your difficulty to "see the forest for the trees."

Accept everything that comes to you and take responsibility for your decisions without doubting them, your doubts will only slow down the process.

It's like you said, even though you don't know why you say it: energy must circulate to produce movement and this generates new alternatives that are better aligned with your Now.
