

THE KRYON TEACHINGS

Channeled by Mario Liani

The Kryon Group is the name that Mario Liani uses to describe the loving energy of Kryon.

This energy is not a single entity, but a higher consciousness group of angelic realms that operates without individuality and with absolute synchronicity.

Kryon is channeled in several languages by different spokespersons around the world.

Mario Liani is just another channel for Kryon in the Spanish language.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(2ST TRIMESTER 2005)

Channeled during 2005-2006

QUESTION NO. 1

Dear Kryon,

I would like some information on the type of medicine practiced on the project Karden, run mainly by Cuban and Mexican doctors.

I would also like to know, is there is a relationship between the teeth and internal organs in our biological body?

S. – Brazil

ANSWER NO. 1

Dear S.,

Every medical project implemented by humans with the sacred intention of healing others is honored by Spirit; blessed is the human who can and want to help others heal.

Spirit does not censor, condemn or judge appearances or unimportant details in whatever you endeavor, it's enough for us to know that there is a sacred intention guiding your steps, even when you are not aware of it.

We say "sacred intention" because intention is always sacred; all your projects are born from this sacred starting point: the love which is above any interest.

Even though this one or that one have become profitable enterprises –which is understandable and does not require an explanation- there is an underlying sacred intention, fueled by the flame that permanently lights any trace of darkness. However tenuous, it lights and guides the steps of those that for the first time carry it in their hearts.

As for the second question, yes, any organ in your body is connected to the entire body. The human proportions are sacred and those of you who have studied sacred geometry know it. Any organ of the human body has dimensions relative to other organs, ruled by mathematical constants with a value of 1,618.

In regards to your specific question, the teeth are mainly related to the physical organs that have to do with food assimilation. They are also related to any aspects of the process of information at the various levels.

QUESTION NO. 2

Dear Mario,

There is a question that has always been on my mind. In all the Kryon messages, I have never read anything regarding Fidel Castro. I am Cuban, and I am not for or against Fidel, but I have always felt that there is a certain "injustice" about what is happening in Cuba is (I have resided in Argentina for the past 13 years). I have read many of the questions to Kryon and the answers. Can this question ever be answered?

I. - Argentina

ANSWER NO. 2

Dear I.,

You are blessed for asking this question, which is on the minds of many people on the planet! So, we answer your question, which it's also address all humanity.

Things are not always what they appear...

The Caribbean Island situated in front of the coasts of the great country of the north represents a sort of a "counterbalance" in the relationship this great country has with its smaller neighbors.

The counterbalance has to do with the ideal of freedom.

Great part of the history you wish to know centers on what we just told you. The philosophy born on that island several decades ago was born of the pure seed of the ideal of freedom. This ideal gave origin to the majority of the belligerent confrontations of humanity: freedom of religion, freedom of thought, political freedom, sexual freedom, etc.

Contraposition has been created here, achieving freedom for some means depriving others of their freedom, the crux of the matter remains.

You may notice that the paradigm of duality lies behind both extremes and that is precisely what has created an imbalance in the wonderful ideal that generated the process you ask about.

The duality of the human being has generated the conflict, the clash, the radical viewpoints and everything humanity experiences on this subject. Observe, please, that the human race that at present inhabits this great country of the north has multiplied on this land based on this ideal. The leaders that successively have been at the helm of this country have touted that their country is the greatest because is a country of freedoms and that is why their people are free.

The head of that small island, the closest and smallest neighbor, had the audacity to speak of freedom in the big brother's face. The word freedom is the same, but spoken by two different voices that come from opposing views, hence, dual.

In this text you are now reading, we are not judging which of the two freedoms is better. We only remark that each, in its own way, adapted the concept to what best suited them.

As a result, for many years they have carried on a sort of a clash of wills, where neither country has given up and has become some sort of point of honor for two sectors of humanity: those who raise their fist in anger against the leader of this small island and those who defend his position.

The fact is, dear, that thanks to these two extreme positions, and, most of all, thanks to the courageous spiritual "sacrifice" of a small group of souls (in relation to the rest of the souls inhabiting earth) who have reincarnated successively for three generations on this small island, a delicate balance has been achieved that goes beyond the geopolitics and the strategic importance this small island has for the great country of the north, or any other country that wishes to confront them.

Have you ever thought for a moment what would have happened if this strategic position had fallen in the wrong hands? Have you thought about all the possible consequences if the counterbalance between David and Goliath had not worked out?

In this story, neither one of the two –David or Goliath- is either "good" or "bad." Simply, each did what they had to do, within the framework of everything that had to be experienced in the concept of the "old energy" that is now reaching its end.

Ah! If you could see what we see... if you could have God's vision for an instant... we assure you that you would understand all of this in the blink of an eye.

Most of humanity judges the leader of the small island as a tyrant... and from a human's viewpoint it's possible that they are right. But we do not judge the same way. We only see a powerful entity, who chose to play a great role at a planetary level, a role that he knew would be long and weary, but it was necessary in order to create a balance. Observe –and it goes without saying- that this entity's life has been protected, since he has been able to accomplish his mission for over forty years without anyone hindering his work.

Ultimately, it's possible that he ends his days in his own bed, dying of old age –as you like to say- just like any grandfather in any family... How ironic, isn't it?

When all this ends –or shall we say- when it transmutes to another energy, you will all understand why it was important that it happened this way, besides, it's important that the change takes place during a time when many dramas would have ended and the third generation of entities will be the one to carry out the change.

Blessed are those who in their seminal seed carry the suffering of their ancestors, because they will have the option to transmute the pain their grandfathers and fathers lived so that they can transcend and overcome it. This suffering, which is now at a seminal level, will become the fuel for the lamp of mercy and for the humanitarian feeling in this region of the planet. And so it is.

Kryon blesses you, dear!

QUESTION NO. 3

Dear brother Mario,

Once again, I thank our Father for people like you who confirm the teachings received from the Ascended Masters in my spiritual group, who so lovingly give us an inner opening that allows us to see the world and life and to learn our own individual missions, while in constant evolution on the road to the coming new age.

I would very much appreciate it if you could channel "my own Kryon," which is, without a doubt, extremely important to me on my way to the permanent light.

I reside in Santiago de Chile.

From the distance, I send you a hug and many blessings.

F. - Chile

ANSWER NO. 3

Dear F.,

You said it!

You ask that our spokesman channels your own Kryon... but Kryon is yours and lives in you, what need is there to ratify that which lives in you, since you already feel is yours, to the point that you call it "your own Kryon?"

Kryon, the Spiritual Family, lives in you. Therefore, open to the joy of being in permanent communion with your spiritual group and learn to communicate with us.

You have ask for communication, however, you have not ask a specific question. To us, this means that you don't need anything more than a small confirmation, a tiny push to show you we are here.

We bless you because we know that you are pure and your spiritual intention has been declared.

QUESTION NO. 4

Hello Mario,

For some time now, I've had what is called "the third eye." It's a vortex in the shape of an eye. I see it with when my eyes are opened or closed; it's even more visible at night or in the first hours of the morning.

I have seen things, many symbols and calendars I didn't know about; I also see a tunnel of many colors, and the color that stands out is violet. Sometimes it scares me, and I think that when I wake up the next morning it won't be there, but it's always there.

The thing is that I don't know what this means to me or what it is for. So far, I have no knowledge that this has happened to any other person, according to what I have read. Please, could you ask Kryon about this when you have the opportunity?

Many thanks.

S. – Venezuela

ANSWER NO. 4

Dear S.,

The vortex you perceive with such intensity is due to a process of energy alignment at the level of the third eye.

This is a normal process, natural, and happens to those who are on the path of evolution. Some of you perceive vortices in the crown chakra. Others feel a buzzing sound in the ears and also hear voices. Others, like you, perceive the activation of this energy center on your forehead.

What worries you –whether it will be there or not when you awake- is irrelevant, because is caused by adjustments. We suggest that you take an interest in the not so obvious effects, the non-visual. Ask yourself, for example, what is changing in the way you perceive things, and you will find the answer you are looking for.

Blessings, dear!

QUESTION NO. 5

Hello Mario,

I have a Santeria store, and after many years in a metaphysical school, where we were taught Christian metaphysics, I have decided to fly solo.

I formed my own group and we worked with all the information we had until the year 2002. Anyway, I had the feeling at some point that there was so much more than what I had been taught. I had fallen in some sort of hole and I felt that I could only get out with new tools. At this time, Easter of 2003, I asked Tata (that's what I call God) to show me the road I should follow.

I went to "Capilla del Monte", a place with a lot of energy in the province of Cordoba, and had a wonderful experience in this place; I saw the space brothers "spaceships" for what seemed like hours.

Back in Rosario, a dear friend of mine and a great follower of Sai Baba, was waiting for me with a present: Kryon 7. I had read books 1, 2, 3 and 4 back in 1999, but things had not "clicked" for me (not consciously) until then.

From that moment on, I began to share the information received from Kryon and my workshops were transformed. Now I hold workshops for over 30 people and I specifically work with the Kryon messages channeled by all of you, my beloved and helpful brothers. I also have two radio shows. One of them is "Wings of the Soul." We have been on the air for two years and we also work with the Kryon energy.

I give you my background because I want to know –this is a very human question- if what I am doing is the right thing, if I am showing the energy of Kryon the proper respect. I feel "passion" for what I'm doing and also feel that the information I handle is "revolutionary," within certain "parameters" of this very manipulated "new age."

I hope hear your comments.

G. – Argentina

ANSWER NO. 5

Dear G.,

When humans feel passion for what they do, they cover themselves with a powerful mantle of invincibility, and this mantle not only protects them from adverse opinions that could set their mission back but also the halo of this mantle announces to those who can perceive it, that this entity really believes in what he preaches, because to believe in what you preach is to put it into practice.

If you, human, feel revolutionary, we bless you, because we need knowledge to evolve and for this we need beings that revolutionize knowledge, so that it can evolve and adapt to modern society.

Press on, revolutionary of the light!

We bless you with love.

QUESTION NO. 6

Friend and brother,

I apologize for my audacity in asking for your help.

I felt the need to begin to spread the word about Kryon and the significance of what is about to happen on our beloved earth.

However, I don't want to rush things and obscure the image or message of our beloved Kryon for lack of support or preparation. I think you can attune to my vibration.

Here is where I need your help: I hope you don't consider the fact that I am asking your Guides, Masters or Kryon for help a lack of humility on my part, but I want to know if I am ready for such mission and if I will receive help with this marvelous task.

I want to be an active element in the building of the New Age and be more helpful to the Universe.

Let the light be.

M. – Brasil

ANSWER NO. 6

Dear M.,

Every time each one of you is ready to follow the spiritual path, and specifically agrees to spread words of comfort that will help others grow spiritually, Spirit helps with this undertaking.

It is not necessary to ask anyone for permission. You only have to listen to your own heart.

If you know how, follow what your heart dictates, because we, Spirit, speak through it. It is our favorite language.

We bless you with love!

QUESTION NO. 7

I deeply appreciate all the work you have been doing and I hope you have the opportunity to answer my question.

Many months ago, almost a year, Kryon came into my life through his books. I have done everything and devoured each book and channeling. The process has been very hard but with good results. I definitely believe I have learned much, however, something is wrong: my finances.

I seem to be in a permanent crisis. I should tell you that before I began this process it wasn't like that. In fact, my Higher Self decided that I should follow this path so that I could meet my Spirit again, I suffered an avalanche of loses and there I found the Light.

And just when I think I have overcome many of the challenges, I see that abundance is still lacking. I have come a long way and I think my soul is balanced, however, "that reality" continues to make my phone and the doorbell ring. Perhaps my debts are not huge, but I have lost my job, and regardless of how I ask Spirit for a sign, I seem to lack direction and the intuition to guide me to the new energy of my sweet home.

Can you explain what is happening and what I need to do? Many thanks!

N. – Mexico

ANSWER NO. 7

Dear N.,

Everything you tell me characterizes the permanent paradigm of the human being who doesn't seem to feel complete or appears not to have reached all the blessings he wishes in his earthly experience.

This dissatisfaction, this deficiency is part of the process you have voluntarily taken on. The financial topic –lack of material abundance- is the recurring theme in the majority of the cases before us.

You are no stranger to the experience of such limitations, which were designed to temper your soul, so that you could learn to focus your intention towards a higher objective –as you confirmed it.

When we tell you to stay focused, we don't mean to only read spiritual themes or to think you are spiritual. A complete focus is to put into practice everything you have learned, and more importantly, understand that everything that happens to you is a learning experience.

When the human is capable of understanding that even the smallest incident in his life is a lesson from which he can learn, a lesson he should put it into practice in his interaction with others... that is when this human definitely embarks on the road that will take him to experience Heaven on Earth.

Prosperity, or putting it another way, lack of financial limitations is in direct accord with the relationship you have with yourself, in regard to self-esteem, as well as the others in the practice of giving and receiving.

With time, you will find that you are capable of finding a point of balance in the exercise of these two facets of your life, and we are entirely sure that you will leave here with a greater knowledge on this subject.

Remember, dear, you are not alone... we know everything you have been through and because of it we now manifest before you, in this way, through our channel.

Blessed be!

QUESTION NO. 8

Dear Mario,

I am very appreciative and grateful to Spirit for the teachings of the Master of the Magnetic Service conveyed through your messages with which I resonate. And that is why I am writing to you with my questions to the Kryon group.

Dear Kryon,

I wish to present a few questions with the hope that they will be answered and published:

1) I have always had questions of a biological nature, what is the reason for the male sex to have "tits" or nipples, though obviously smaller than women's. Is this a reminiscence of the Goddess? What is their biological purpose? Do they have a metaphysical meaning?

2) Is there in Venezuela a place where I can find magnetized water, good for drinking and balancing our biology, such as the one you find in Canada? You mentioned it a few years ago in one of the Lee Carroll's books. If there is, can you tell us where?

3) Is our moon a natural satellite or was it artificially built by intelligent beings millennia ago as I have read from several sources? Is it solid or hollow? Were there originally two moons orbiting around the earth as just we had two suns? Did the crew from the Apollo mission to the moon find only rocks and dust or did they find traces of previous intelligent life? Can you explain a bit about the moon and its purpose?

4) Can you tell us if there is any truth to the photon belt phenomena? How come you have never spoken on the subject?

Thanks Mario and Kryon Group!

C. – Venezuela

ANSWER NO. 8

Dear C.,

We appreciate your questions, because those questions are in the mind and mouth of humanity. However, we will only answer those we can answer at this time.

1) Your question about the male nipples is very interesting! To begin with, we can tell you that they are there because human beings possess, simultaneously, masculine and feminine potentials in their being. In other spheres, we don't have dualities as in the human plane. As you say, angels don't have gender. And the fact that the male human possesses certain characteristics that are similar to the female organ which specific function is to nurse, suggest that the human possesses the potential to develop this function, along with the other functions of the opposite sex. Just as the feminine clitoris suggest the presence of a stunted or miniature penis. In fact, all the masculine erogenous zones have their equivalent in the feminine.

Evidently, all this demonstrates dual not extreme aspects, since there is a bit of the feminine in the masculine and a bit of the masculine in the feminine... this doesn't contradict the postulate of the well known theory of the yin and yang.

2) The presence of magnetized waters is common all over the planet and your country is no exception. These places with such essence springs have yet to be discovered. The time will come.

3) The moon is an artificial satellite placed there to balance the magnetic balance of Earth. This satellite has gone through several readjustments, every time it was necessary to intervene. These interventions are obviously divine, meaning, based on a Master Plan adjusted to human evolution in their habitat. And here we are, speaking of eons of angelical intervention! The missions to the moon staffed by humans only saw what they were permitted to see, they brought back only what was authorized and revealed only what they could, because that was not the moment to know and reveal more about the subject.

And so it is.

QUESTION NO. 9

Dear Mario,

Synchronicity has played an important role in getting your e-mails to start arriving in my inbox. I began to read Kryon channeled by Lee Carroll just a few months before you informed us that you were an authorized channel. I was thrilled to learn that someone I already knew was a channel. I appreciate your work and you can count on a young man of 23, a Lightworker in the biggest city in the world: Federal District, Mexico.

Kryon, I know that you know me now and always have, just as you know every one else. Why is the divine plan such a mystery to me? Why do I feel someone is always watching me very closely? Will there ever be a moment when I won't be so confused?

I have read your opinion about other channels y I know that the best way to identify the validity of these messages is through our intuition that tells us whether the message comes from "fear" or "love," but these "beings" from the Galactic Federation and some others who are supposedly extra terrestrials have me confused. Is it true that everything related to Nesara, "First Contact" and the world government conspiracy is to keep us under control? Does our brother Jesus really speaks through Bradley, Nancy Tate and the others?

Did the neutral implant I received about a year ago eliminate my karma? Had I not asked for it, would my life be different today?

Why don't we have the financial state we desire if we have demonstrated not only the intention but have also taken action? Why do channels always tell us that we are almost out of the state of lack but nothing ever happens? Did my creation get out of control? Is there someone, besides my will, who keeps me in my addiction? I feel that the forces of light know everything I do, is it possible that the dark forces have the same interest in me and have managed to confuse my free will?

Kryon, are my suspicions of having gone through a transmigration real? and lastly, do all the conscious beings in the Universe continue to ask themselves the same questions we do, even though they have been around millions of years more?

O. – Mexico

ANSWER NO. 9

Dear O.,

There are too many questions; we have to narrow them down.

As for the first question, you have answered it yourself since you already know that the confirmation of the messages you read is inside yourself, through the discernment of your soul-heart.

All of you, dear humans, have the capacity to channel Spirit, only you are not aware of it as you are not paying attention.

When you do, your channelings could be laden with personal twists and turns, like your own beliefs. You may be able to channel, but mixed in with the essence of the spiritual message are your own fears and doubts.

We have said it many times: in a message given through a channel, Spirit wishes only to help, console, teach, prevent, inform, but not confuse, reprimand, suppress or infuse panic. We believe everything has been said.

As far as the rest of your questions, our answer is that your request for an implant to neutralize karma is only a sign, in this way the human manifests his intention to experience consciously—and once and for all- all the lessons he needs to experience, so that these intense experiences he faces act as a fire of transmutation that tempers your body and soul, so that you can then see what really matters: to live in state of perpetual spiritual connection where each act will become a conscious learning and the acceptance of your timeless essence, in spite of your ephemeral physical body. By the way, the process of neutralization of karma, is nothing more than a process of transmigration!

Dear, there are no dark forces threatening you. Only you have the power to change your vision and light your dark areas. All that is needed is your intention.

Finally, the divine spark that lives in each being, human or not –including us as a group of entities- causes us to be in a permanent state of evolution, always seeking divine perfection, always asking what we can do to better ourselves in everything we do. And do you know how can we reach divine perfection? Through you, doing what we can to help you - who are a part of us- let's embark on the same journey together.

And so it is.

QUESTION NO. 10

Hello Mario,

I would like to ask about what I am doing, my salaried job and my work as a Lightworker.

Why is everything so difficult? What am I doing wrong? I feel as if I don't ever get the results I want. Am I in the right place?

I am grateful for your answer.

Hugs,

B. – Nicaragua

ANSWER NO. 10

Dear B.,

Your question is the same question many Lightworkers have, and the answer we give you is similar to many others.

There is nothing wrong. It's only that you can't perceive that what happens has a purpose until you learn the lesson.

Try to be conscious of everything you do, this is how you can perceive the lessons unfolding before your eyes. When you discover that everything happens for a reason, and that this joins your perception to the perception of others, you will then have taken a definite step towards taking control of your life, including your earthly work and your light work.

QUESTION NO. 11

Dear Mario,

I have a question for Kryon. Can one be an energetic anchor without having requested the neutral implant?

Thank you in advance.

M. - Venezuela

ANSWER NO. 11

Dear M.,

As a learning human, spirit often places you in situations where you must act without premeditation, following your gut instinct or just allowing the flow of life to carry you.

When this happens and you are just acting, not thinking, you have placed yourself in the hands of a superior force that guides your steps in a subtle but firm manner. By asking to be an anchor or a beacon to others, a voluntary manifestation occurs from an intention that has been stated. However, when it has not been asked for and it happens, this decision has been made at a different level and the only thing you can do is go with this powerful force that recognizes your surrender and acceptance of what needs to be done.

And so it is.

QUESTION NO. 12

Dear Mario,

I'm an agronomist and during my professional career I have worked for the government as well as private companies in projects related to the agrarian development of my country (Peru). I believe that I have always done a good job, particularly when it came to implementing something new (strategy planning and execution), urgent rehabilitation (due to terrorism or floods) or implementing new technology (low budget irrigation).

However, when the projects ended or were well underway, the company I was working for invariably changed the course of things or merged, or "desk experts" who "knew how to do things" came into the picture, I then either resigned or was fired. In spite of it all, I have an extensive professional background.

The problem is that I have not been able to get a job in my profession in over a year. I am 58 years old and in good health. I meditate and try to be positive but the doors continue to close one after the other. What should I do?

Regards,

C. A. – Peru

ANSWER NO. 12

Dear C. A.,

Life is simply teaching you through your experiences that you have to change course or just chose a different way of doing things.

Dear, you have a gift and you know it. Try to connect with other ways and fields of actions in order to utilize your gift, since it is obvious that your previous experiences have shown you what was not working. Meditate on this, go over your experiences and ask your heart if you felt good about doing what you were doing. Ask your heart what is trying to show you every time it closes a door.

Try to look at your life with the eyes of spirit and you will find the answers you are seeking.

Kryon blesses you.

QUESTION NO. 13

Dear Kryon,

I know that you know how it moves me to be able to communicate with you through Mario, my brother on the spiritual path. Right now my heart jumps for joy for this opportunity and I only have one question for you. I only need a few words because I know that whatever you say is exactly what I need to hear; I also know that it will be helpful to the hundreds of brothers and sisters who are also searching even if we don't know what it is we are searching for most of the time (spiritual humor).

Thank you!

R. – Argentina

ANSWER NO. 13

Dear R.,

Blessed are you because you only need a few words of encouragement to brighten your day. We give you what you ask for...

Every time you connect with a silent petition of solace, support, protection, solidarity from a person who directly or indirectly interacts with you, give in to that feeling of wanting to give all of yourself. Give that which you know you would ask for or expect from others if you were in the same situation.

This is the gift we give you because is the gift we expect from you. Give to others what you would want for yourself... or what you are afraid to receive. Don't repress anymore, don't close up your feelings. Give in to your feelings so that you can learn to receive them.

The Kryon Group blesses you!

Comment from R. after receiving the answer from Kryon:

Hello everyone!

What a wonderful surprise was for me to find an answer from Kryon in my Inbox. I have no words to express my emotion and the gratitude I feel.

And just as I expected when I asked the question, the message came at the right moment. This teaches me that whenever we ask for help we should only do just that: ask, without telling Spirit what to give us, because He knows what we truly need in order to fulfill the contracts that we "signed" before reincarnating, only we have forgotten.

I Send you a warm hug full of energy.

R.

QUESTION NO. 14

Hello!

My blessings, Mario, for your love and willingness to give us these wonderful teachings. Please tell Kryon for me and about me. I have two or three questions.

Tell Kryon that I have loved him from the first moment I began to read his first book. For almost two weeks, I would wake up between at midnight or at dawn just to read. Something very powerful was happening.

What I was reading was reflected in my heart and transformed in a voice that I would hear very clearly within me, at the level of the heart. At the same time, I saw myself in a classroom, sitting and listening to Kryon's teachings.

I read some of the books and I was with him in a channel by Lee Carroll in France, I was elated and wrapped in his powerful energy. I tried to be in symbiotic relationship with him and others. I sometimes feel an extraordinary connection but I have doubts afterwards. Are long, inner conversations that leave me in an altered state for hours. I hear answers to my questions and I am astonished and sad when it ends... and the tears come, and I ask why it happens this way. I want to speak with Kryon right now and this makes me feel nostalgic.

Kryon, please help me and guide me. God has given me so many gifts but I'm afraid to go the wrong way for lack of confidence. How come nothing seems to be working in my life? Is it because of my imperfections, ignorance, fears?

I sometimes feel very nostalgic for my soul family. I know I am in this world but not of this world. I have difficulty adjusting to earthly laws. I wish to do something beautiful and extraordinary but I don't know what to do.

Can you please help me?

M. – Switzerland

ANSWER NO. 14

Dear M.,

Spirit blesses your doubts and your fears. They are a reflection of the doubts and fears of a divided humanity due to their duality.

You have heard us, you have been with us, you have heard our teachings, you have talked and had discussion with the group through your dreams and yet, you don't believe in yourself!

Inconceivable, but you don't trust your own inner experiences, particularly what your heart knows. Your tears have confirmed it more than once, they were tears of joy and happiness not tears of sadness for our contact.

Dear, your sadness, that sadness you so frequently feel, is not because you yearn for your spiritual home. No. You feel sad for yourself. Your sadness comes from the frustration of not being able to have control over your life, because you know you are the only one who can do this, no one else.

You feel sad because what you call imperfection is nothing more than your inability to see what's around you, to see with the eyes of Spirit, with the vision you possess but are unable to use.

Trust in yourself, dear. Trust that your heart will never deceive you. Trust your visions when they are connected to your heart. This is the secret: If you wish to see the world with the eyes of Spirit and understand the essence of things, you have to see the world through the feelings and emotions that originate in your heart.

Impregnate your vision with this quality and through it, chose your experiences and the path you perceive as adequate. Do it without doubts and fear, you know how to do it and we are always here, in your inner space, to help you perceive it.

Spirit blesses you,

QUESTION NO. 15

Mario,

When I read the questions you send to us, I always ask myself, what do you ask Kryon directly? My duality is at work so I don't know what the answer is... I know that I can communicate, but if you ever have the opportunity, I would like to know how to be more useful, wherever I'm needed, since they know the general needs of the planet.

In short, I would ask this: "Beloved Kryon, what do you need now, I'll do what you ask of me."

T. – Chile

ANSWER NO. 15

Dear T.,

Your question is very simple and direct. Therefore, our answer will be simple and direct.

What do we want you to do for us? Where do you need you?

We want you to be yourself, to stay where you are, to do what you do and that you do it consciously, because this is what you need to do for yourself, for us, for the Spiritual Family.

Stay present in your reality. Live your now fully present. When you are able to see that you are in the moment and that this moment is nothing without you, you will then understand why you need to be there.

We bless your spontaneity!

QUESTION NO. 16

Kryon,

Thank your for all the help you give us. I want to ask you something:

I have been learning and studying for many years now, trying to grow spiritually but I sometimes feel as if I have not made any progress... I think I can be of service guiding and directing those who need help, and I am learning astrology on my own to use as a base. Am I doing the right thing? Sometimes I feel the need to go back to my country but several factors have impeded me. Can I do it? Do you have a message for me?

Thanks you!

Y. – United States

ANSWER NO. 16

Dear Y.,

You are blessed for having left your roots behind and for settling in another land that needed your energy anchored in it.

You are where you are because you are needed here. You have understood this on a subconscious level and that is why you are preparing yourself to help others through the wisdom you can accumulate and also, above all, the wisdom you can remember, because you have gifts that need to be remembered and applied again.

If you have tried to go back to your roots and something has kept you from it, value what has happened in all its details, this is the way Spirit tells you, humans, what to do. So it is!

QUESTION NO. 17

Hello Mario,

I am going through a very bad crisis, and I feel very tired, alone and with a great need of affection that I don't have right now. I am worried about my husband, my oldest son's education and plain tired of suffering. I wish with all my heart for "something" that never comes and I have always wanted, wished and searched for, but I don't know how to put it into words.

M. A. - España

ANSWER NO. 17

Dear M. A.,

Perhaps you have not understood that what you wish for with all your heart you already have. Everything that surrounds you is a part of that which you have activated in order to experience the grand adventure of being a human angel in service.

When you say that you wait for something, maybe you haven't noticed that you are placing in yourself an attitude of "virtual" expectancy where you don't know what you are waiting for, and this confuses you and blocks you.

Why don't you stop waiting, why don't you disconnect this attitude of expectancy that distracts your presence in the now and get ready for action, taking care of the now that demands your attention?

Did you know that when you take care of present moment, you allow all the mechanism that regulate your actions to synchronically place themselves in the right places to guide you –without your knowledge- towards that which is more suitable for you?

What you think you are waiting for "is not coming" until you set things in motion. With every step forward "it" is getting closer and begins to create the reality needed to pave your path of evolution. The now is the road you build with every forward step you take. If you don't take the first step, there is no road.

Did you know that "you build the road with every step you take" is an inter-dimensional slogan?

QUESTION NO. 18

Here there are no questions, but Kryon chose to manifest to Hernan, the coordinator of our group www.grupo33.com.ar in relation to the wonderful work you do by spreading the word. Here is the message Kryon channeled through Hernan:

ANSWER NO. 18

Dear Hernan,

The Kryon Group blesses you, Group 33, for activating the sacred intention of making it possible for others to find answers inside of themselves and to facilitate the discovery of the inner angel that each one of you carries inside, hiding behind the apparent veil of duality.

Blessed are those who have glimpsed the potential that can be generated from the union of humans willing to achieve a common purpose, since the societies of the future will be based on this sacred premise, the human being who gives up his individuality and leadership for a common cause is blessed with the understanding that there is no separation between entities doing service for others, just like there is no separation in the waters of all the oceans, even though they have different names, there is only one ocean.

Hernan, we congratulate you for your work and we want you to know that you brought that seed planted in you. You don't know how happy we are that you have set it in motion and that you are paving a road others will follow! Always remember that the trees planted along a road will grow and give shade to those who travel there...

The Kryon group blesses you.

QUESTION NO. 19

Dear Mario,

I am writing to you because I have a couple of questions for Kryon. I know that he listens to everyone in the same way, but I don't have the kind of fluid communication you do.

My name is L., a girl from Spain. All of my life, I have always dreamed of being a writer and make a living with it. As you can imagine, this is very difficult though not impossible. That is why I keep on trying.

I would like to ask Kryon if this is something I will ever accomplish, or will I have to settle for something else? I feel that I should write, but I don't want to waste my time with something that may not get me anywhere. I would like to have the benefit of our cosmic brother's advice.

I would also like to ask about my mother and her situation, this worries me greatly, I would like to know how I can help her and if she will be able to resolve her situation.

Besides the above, I would love to get any other advice you wish to give me.

Receive a sisterly hug, because we really all know each other even though we don't remember. And to Kryon, all my love and a warm hug, because he has lighted my way and I am very grateful.

L. – Spain

ANSWER NO. 19

Dear L.,

Your passion for writing has been with you for a long time, you have always felt you have something to tell and your life is based on this premise.

When you write, you sort of feel like you speak a foreign language, with secret codes that only you can understand. However, you must try to translate those codes to a language that all can understand and appreciate. Remember that to communicate is to make yourself understood and to generate a two way dialogue. Also, try to be more objective and specific with your creations, this will help you visualize how to bring to life to what excites your imagination.

The potential you have for realizing your dream is huge, therefore, you have everything you need to attain it. Our only advice is not to be too impatient and impulsive in trying to make it happen too fast, everything happens at the right moment. Allow that moment to get here, and this way, you will be able to enjoy your success and celebrate in the knowledge that you achieved it through passion and dedication.

Let us remind you that nothing is impossible for you, humans, even though you don't remember, you are the true creators of realities.

We bless your desire to communicate. Keep going!

QUESTION NO. 20

Dear Kryon,

My main worry has to do with my path as an energetic facilitator (healer) and as a spiritual guide. Since I embarked on this path, it seems to have coincided with a diminishing of my financial resources as well as a separation (physical) from my son N. I have not been able to achieve abundance doing what I do, which is my passion. At this time, there are several possibilities of working in my profession as an architect, and it will more than likely be a full time job, one of them, a long term offer, is in Costa Rica.

I ask for guidance regarding abundance and healing, would it be appropriate for me to walk away from healing, though temporarily, to practice architecture? Would it be appropriate to move to Costa Rica? I also ask for guidance regarding my role as a father.

Regarding the Carta Maya, how valid is this knowledge and how is it holding up in these changing times we are experiencing?

Thank you very much,

J. – Colombia

ANSWER NO. 20

Dear J.,

The ways of the healer are infinite. It is not written that you have to be a healer to heal others, or that you should see, feel, listen, speak or practice your art in a certain way.

Every healer has a special energetic configuration that allows him to act under specific premises. The most important thing is not how you do it, that you function as a true healing channel, as an intermediary who shows others a way to heal.

Healers, every one of you posses a unique and untransferable talent. The important thing is that you know is there and that you allow that potential you recognize as yours to flow, and that you apply it to others.

Therefore, don't question your material lack, which is very common among healers. Some are able to cement their talents exercising an honorable and lucrative career, making it a real profession, others will not completely achieve this and others still will barely manage to exist.

The possibilities depend on your personal contract and the calling. In your life, humans, it is predicted that there are times when you should intently listen to one calling more than another. These times are designed to help you connect your growth with your heart, with your passion.

The only calling you should follow is the one from your heart. Only your heart knows what to do in certain instances. Only your heart knows, dear J, what decision you should make, because only you can know and value the circumstances in you life.

However, dear healer, one thing is true: to heal others you don't need to wear the garments of a healer and place a sign on your door that says: "I heal others." Understand, dear, that a healer will heal anyone wherever he is. You don't need a special platform to announce that you are doing it. You only need to help someone who asks for help.

No matter what you do, dear J, you are a healer. Therefore, do not worry about accepting other lucrative opportunities. In the end, you accepted to be here to experience an earthly life and you cannot escape the need to make a living. Be practical, and above all, be honest with yourself. Follow your heart and know that your talent will go with you no matter what you do and no matter where you are, after all, you are an angel disguised as a human. What is one more disguise? a healer disguised as an architect or builder..., truly, we tell you that the ways of a healer-architect are infinite.

Sleep on it. We know you are a great dreamer, just like your son N.

You two have much in common. So, our advice is that you explore those commonalities, which will help you find a common ground to initiate a dialogue and exchange experiences. If you only knew how well you compliment each other, you would have put in motion a plan of spiritual integration. You can accomplish a lot if you both recognize each other as complimentary entities. We urge you to do it, dear.

Receive our blessings.

QUESTION NO. 21

Dear Kryon,

After I began reading your communications, I discover in myself a total affinity with most of what you say, some things I had to meditate on in order to reconcile them with my internal "system," and very few seemed to contradict, at least on the surface, what I had studied so far. Because of this, and as a part of my spiritual search, I wish to ask:

1. Can I trust the teachings in the "The Secret Doctrine," by H.P. Blavatsky, as true and exact, as well as the Annie Besant books? Or should I implement a process "to separate the wheat from the shaft" in these books?
2. I want to write a book (I have already started it) on these themes to contribute my small grain of sand to humanity's awakening, because I feel I have something to say.

Would it be opportune and appropriate to write such a book? I have doubts, even though I feel a great force within me pushing me to do it, obviously, this would be after completing some studies.

This is it for now. I thank you from the bottom of my heart, Mario and Kryon, for everything you do to help us. I apologize for the inconvenience.

Greetings.

E. - Uruguay

ANSWER NO. 21

Dear E.,

You have given yourself an answer to the first question with your own questions.

Yes, you should separate the "wheat from the shaft," they are all teachings, all concepts that you humans emit from your own system, and they should be verified by your own belief system, which is the one that decided the "validity" of any principle.

On the other hand, the answer to your second question also compliments the one before.

It's always appropriate to reinvigorate human knowledge, which after a time demands actualization that should be accepted in your always growing and changing state of human things.

Knowledge is never static. On the contrary, is dynamic. Therefore, dear E., it's imperative that it should be renovated periodically and infused with freshness and vitality. If this happens to all the disciplines, why should it not happen to the esoteric and spiritual?

Humans of the 21st century, you have the absolute responsibility to renovate the structure of knowledge, bringing your particular vision, which is none other than the vision of your souls which have gradually and periodically evolved within the structure of our dear Mother Earth. Carry on!

And so it is.

QUESTION NO. 22

Greetings Kryon, it's an immense pleasure to be able to communicate with you.

I ask for your highly valued help with the following: a bit over a year ago, I began to receive frequent visits from spaceships, and I was able to perceive the intention of those inside the ships, they established communication with me.

There was one time when they were so close that I was able to clearly see one of the ships in a "V" shape. There were others that look like luminous spheres. However, something happened and suddenly they went away and I never heard from them again (not with the same intensity of that one time).

Do you know the reasons for their presence and why they went away? And, whose ships were those with the particular "V" shape?

Many thanks,

D.

ANSWER NO. 22

Dear D.,

It's not uncommon for you to observe these apparatus from other dimensions. We said it on many occasions, there exist several species of visitors with different agendas, and among them are those who observe without interfering.

Your experience fits in this suggested possibility. They were observing you.

Remember that a probable contact with these beings depend on their mission, their agenda and also on whether you give your consent or not, at a conscious or unconscious level.

We urge you to look within first, to see how you feel in relation to these beings and if you have a real disposition to experience this type of contact.

You are free to have the attitude you wish, though we have to warn you that there are consequences, particularly if you don't know who you are dealing with. Our advice is that you establish the firm position that they would not use you without your consent.

QUESTION NO. 23

Dear Kryon,

Why can't I completely eliminate my depression? What would help me heal? Why my relationship with my husband is not working but neither one wants to get a divorce? What is the best solution? Separate us or work to bring harmony to it? I ask for guidance in how to raise my daughter I. I believe she is a crystal child and I am concerned that I won't be able to raise her properly.

In love and light.

S. – Mexico

ANSWER NO. 23

Dear S.,

Your depression comes from the contradictions that grip your being. On one hand, you have a tendency to be indecisive and circumspect, mainly in relation to your emotions. On the other hand, you act impulsively, in an up-and-down and contradictory way.

Our advice is that you become aware of these two tendencies and try to find a balance between the two, being aware when one is stronger than the other. At the same time, try to give your emotions a proper outlet, without repressing them.

Undoubtedly, this energetic imbalance is affecting your life and this includes the way you interchange emotions with those around you, mainly those closest to you. The unhappiness in your life stems from this. However, it's not beneficial that you carry this load if it burdens you. As we always say: listen to your heart and act accordingly.

Dear, try to remember that you, humans, are living an interpersonal experience necessary for your growth, as well as the growth of all humanity. Be aware of this and it will help you see that everything has an ulterior end.

Even though you don't see it now, it will become self-evident later on. Trust that everything that happens was designed by yourself to reach a higher state of evolution. If you manage to stop your pain even for a moment and concentrate on the vision we are trying to plant, allowing what is supposed to happen to happen, you will gain some relief and will be able to overcome. If not –if you continue hooked on your pain- you can block any of the infinite possibilities that your contract can provide.

QUESTION NO. 24

Dear Mario,

Receive my most heartfelt greeting. Being a Lightworker implies a great commitment and love for others. Therefore, I am grateful that you accepted this wonderful job and the great responsibility that comes with it.

My names is A, and sometimes I perceive situations in which the people in it do not communicate anything to me, and I later realize they are real. Also, I sometimes sense a being on my right side and I perceive its presence very often.

My question for Kryon is, how do I find out who is beside me, this being with the warm energy that doesn't infuse any fear in me and that sometimes seems as if it is whispering in my ear, but I am unable to hear what it says. On the other hand, how can I utilize my perception or improve on it in order to help others? I know that you can only help those who ask for help, but that is up to them.

Receive a warm hug and my gratitude. I wish you that the light surrounds you always.

A. - Venezuela

ANSWER NO. 24

Dear A.,

We love you for asking these questions because you have practically answered them yourself.

Your senses do not fool you and if you perceive an entity or a group of entities with you or that form part of you, as a group of warm and peaceful energies, then it is so! If the situation was different, you would know it.

More than trying to listen to the words we speak to you, try to sense the communication through your heart, quieting your mind and trying not to think what it is that we want to communicate, but rather feeling it within you.

Spiritual communication does not generally originate through words or thoughts, but rather with images and sensations.

When you are able to feel the emotion we transmit –and you will know it, believe me- you will be ready and you will know when to intervene to help others.

QUESTION NO. 25

Hello Mario,

I have recently learned that you channel Kryon, and I would like to know what he thinks of Nesara and the second coming.

M. – Spain

ANSWER NO. 25

Dear M.,

As it has been said through the many different sources –including ours- the validity of the channeled message depends on the belief system of the channel and the person receiving the message. If it resonates with you, then is valid.

On the other hand, we have also said that the messages that come from a valid spiritual source generally contain words of encouragement, comfort, hope and tend to create a feeling of security in the human receptors.

Remember again that the channeled messages are affected by the channel's personal belief system.

Behind every channeled message there generally is the best of intentions. However, it's possible that the channel does not adequately interpret the essence of the message and infuses the message with his personal details that could cause doubt and confusion. This is what could be behind the announcements of Nesara.

QUESTION NO. 26

What a pleasure to be able to consult with you!

My current situation is that my period is four days late; I tested today and the result was positive. I find myself in my duality now, I don't want it because it didn't come the way I asked for it, because I feel it was accelerated and there are certain projects that have not yet materialized.

The idea of not having this baby weights heavy on me, because I don't know if it is karmic or if I am doing something that doesn't align with the divine plan; I know I have free will. On the other hand, I had already been told that I was going to have a baby and I had asked for this to happen at some other time, when it was planned and welcomed.

Today, after the test and finding out that I am pregnant, I was flooded with confusion, I came to check my e-mail inbox and I found a message titled "Responsibilities;" I know that I can end this pregnancy, if I so desire, but I don't want the karma of murder and destruction. I hope you can confirm whether this is part of my life's divine plan and that the baby should be born.

V. – Mexico

ANSWER NO. 26

Dear V.,

We hope that you can understand now why we didn't respond when you first asked us for an answer.

You asked for a confirmation of something we could not give at the time since we could not interfere with the process.

Now, dear, placing value on the time elapsed since your initial query, we wish that you go back to that moment when you were going through a heavy process of doubt, during which you had to make an important decision.

Are you now in place where you can understand? Can you understand that this was one of the many trials that you have to face during your lifetime? Do you understand that your learning depends, not so much on the decisions you make, but "how" you make them?

That moment when you make a decision carries with it a process of self-honesty, where the human being puts himself through a test. What a stroke of genius, isn't it? Your own duality will not allow you to see what really is at a stake here, because it is never about "the moment" itself but rather "the understanding of that moment" and the ability to see the repercussions it has on your growth.

We hope we were able to help so that you could place yourself in the best perspective and be able to understand your moment, dear.

Blessed be!

QUESTION NO. 27

Dear Mario,

It's been some time since I decided to return to my spiritual path through the arts in the year 2000. I closed down my marketing agency and I left my marriage behind (and I was in love!) and my three children, that is the price and energy that goes with this transcendental action. From then on, the initial painful growing process began to illuminate to heights I never suspected.

My earthly guides appeared to show me how to work with the ego. A pretty cousin, who works with her husband under the Sacred Fire of Itzachilatlan, brought me to my spirit in a healing ceremony for the energy stored in my cellular memory. Then, my new partner's guides showed us, through many facets, that being better persons is a responsibility and a reason to be joyous about the process.

I have validated all these wonderful experiences in my heart, given them life through my art. My art has shown me where I come from and this has moved me. Particularly when someone has had a regression looking at my painting of a beautiful female shaman, this tells me that I can heal with my colors and the path to return to our father-mother is infinitely more spectacular, even more so than in the books of light we have been shown.

Mario, I just wanted to ask Kryon through your loving service, to give me advice about the magical path I have embraced through him.

H. – Chile

ANSWER NO. 27

Dear H.,

Your letter is very specific and detailed, and this is good, so that our readers can connect with the essence of the answers we give. Your processes, in and of themselves, are a confirmation that you are traveling the path your heart chose instead of following the opposite tendencies.

As we have said before, being a healer does not mean that you have to have a label or heal through specific means. The important thing is to heal, and you heal through your art.

This is all very simple. Blessed is the human who understands that most times it is not necessary to say too much or to iron out every detail. Set things in motion and act, instead of thinking so much how you are going to do it.

So, dear H, keep on doing what you are doing, you are contributing to the consciousness of the planetary ascension.

Go forward!

QUESTION NO. 28

I do Instrumental Transcommunication (ITC) and I help people communicate with their deceased loved ones, mostly their children. This is a bit complicated since you have to record the sessions, and sorting through the many voices is an arduous task. Sometimes I get what we want, but other times the messages are inaudible and unusable.

I am an electronic and communication technician, I have an idea of how to build an apparatus that would solve the problem of inaudibility. My premise is –and herein lies part of my question- that the beings that pass over to the interdimensional estate are capable of ionizing small areas of space around the microphones, or to record magnetic signals directly onto the cassette, with the aid of small quantities of electromagnetic energy.

Some of my colleagues, following my instructions, are developing a device capable of amplifying a million times the electronic variations contained in small pockets of air. If what I believe is true, with this device we will be able to obtain sound signals good enough to hear them in regular audio amplifiers. We will still need someone to invoke the presence of their loved ones –residing in the interdimensional zone- who, as Kryon said, are not really dead!

Now my second question, am I on the right track, technically and scientifically, with this device? Does Kryon have a recommendation, provided he feels this connection with the other dimensions is appropriate? Will this device be able to channel, in some way, messages from energetic and angelical entities if they are near this electronic device? Or is this a personal delirium and nothing else?

D. – Argentina

ANSWER NO. 28

Dear D.,

Your desire to help is praiseworthy and Spirit blesses you since helping others is every human being's mission.

What you are doing is correct, firstly because your intention is impeccable and that's what counts. And, of course, it is possible to help others to heal certain aspects of the relationship with their deceased relatives that needs closure, or by given them a certain degree of consolation knowing that those who left are living in another reality.

Your technical approach is adequate, but like you pointed out, you still need the intervention of someone to invoke the presence of the being who passed over. However, not everything is a matter of electronics or intentions. I must remind you that such communication is possible in some cases, but not others. It will depend on the need for this communication, for the one giving it and the one receiving it, according to what Spirit has decided for each party.

It's true that all potentials exist here and now, however, there exists the "veil" that has been intentionally placed in order to maintain the illusion of separation between realities. It is necessary for this veil to stay in place –particularly in some cases- with the purpose of triggering the different potentials necessary for each human entity to experience what is his or hers.

Let's just say, dear D, that within the intention you place on what you are doing, you should ask yourself if you feel whether you should intervene in this or that case, and listen to your own "free way" signals, you will then feel authorized by your own gift to intervene and help.

I would like to remind you that all the things you humans do to establish contact with anyone, can change lives... Keep that in mind.

As for your technical question, we remind you that you, "incidentally," are a technician specialized in electronics. Thanks to your knowledge, you are in a position to design the technology necessary to perfect a device that can aid you in your humanitarian activities. Based on this, dear Daniel, look back at the roads that brought you face to face with this learning and you will see the signs all along the road.

Now you have come to a stretch in that road where you begin to see clearly which potentials defined your search. Is not a coincidence that you "thought" about doing what you are doing.

Your technical reasoning is correct. You will have to experiment and make the necessary adjustments. Most of all, you should concentrate on isolating small areas of the magnetic spectrum you have considered as your field of action in your experiment.

Don't forget that the human magnetism influences everything; every human being has his or her own field, therefore, you will have to discover within which parameters exist such possibilities, so that you can design a device that can be adjusted within a certain range, according to the strength of the human magnetic field. Let's say you do several readings that will indicate at what frequency you should operate. Never dismiss the effects of the human being's magnetic field in your experiments, mostly your own, since you will be an important part of it. So, go forward!

Blessed are your deliriums! We can only hope that all human beings would allow themselves to be delirious, because this delirium is the key to discovery.

QUESTION NO. 29

I visited the Hara Krishna temple, and the monk told me that the Sanskrit language is the mother of all languages.

Kryon has said that Hebrew is the most ancient language. Can you give us more specifics to back your affirmation?

B. – Brazil

ANSWER NO. 29

Dear B.,

The human language was born from an interstellar language brought to earth by your ancestors, eons ago. All the forms of communications and its variations derived from this language.

Aside from that, several species or races originated on Earth, created by the different lineages, they had their own linguistic variations and phonetics. Sanskrit belongs to this category. It originated in a particular human lineage.

Hebrew, however, is a language that belongs to a lineage that was brought to Earth for a specific purpose, as we have told you many times through another channel. The members of this lineage –without knowing the real reasons- have always tried to preserve the purity of the original group, avoiding to mix with other races. Within that vision, preserving the purity of the lineage also meant to preserve the purity of the language.

Blessings!

QUESTION NO. 30

Good afternoon, Mario,

I want to consult Kryon, if possible, about my health.

Approximately for a year and half now, I have been suffering from many maladies that come and go. They are there more often than not. I want to ask if this is due to the changing times the world is experiencing, to the process of ascension, or what?

Y. – Venezuela

ANSWER 30

Dear Y.,

Aside from the normal processes related to ascension and the changes humans are experiencing in your physical bodies during these times, you have some cyclical potentials that affect your general health. These specific potentials originated around 2000 (more specifically after 2003) and will be there for another couple of years.

This does not mean that you will feel bad all the time. We just want to let you know that during this time, is necessary that your work on the relationship you have with your physical body and the emotions associated with it. This road will bring you to closely examine your beliefs and will assist with your inner growth, helping you to acquire a new overall vision of your own processes.

You said it yourself in your own words, you don't express your emotions well. Don't you think that is time to change that belief and begin to heal your feminine being?

We invite you to do it, dear!

QUESTION NO. 31

I would like to ask Kryon a question.

When the Kingdom of Heaven is restored on earth, what are the cities going to look like, buildings, future homes? How will our society function? How are we going to transport ourselves from one place to another on this planet or the universe? Is every family going to have a spaceship (without materialism, of course, and astral travels aside)? What will happen to football or flying kites? I enjoy them so much... Will I be able to play these games?

When the Kingdom of Heaven is restored on earth, will I be able to say this: "Today, I'll have a cup of coffee and then I'll go with my family to a beautiful snow peaked mountain and enjoy nature and a spend a wonderful afternoon with them."

I ask you because I have done visualizations about the Kingdom of Heaven and living there, but I know that my best imaginings and dreams will not do it justice.

I say goodbye. Thanks for everything!

C. – Chile

ANSWER NO. 31

Dear C.,

Dreaming is the most innocent activity humans can activate, because it connects them to the Kingdoms of God where other dimensional realities different from the Earth plane exist.

The function of a creative mind is to give the human a key to open the door to those kingdoms, which exist in different planes of experimentation. The creative mind works as a screen to show you everything that exists beyond the human vision. Everything you see there when you close your eyes and let your imagination fly, exists.

The origin of all the inventions humanity has created are found in the dream of the inventor, who saw their creations work even before they could understand how to build them.

The Kingdom of God exist just as you see it in your dreams, and this is an undisputable truth that you, human being, will one day see in one of your experiences.

Keep on dreaming of Kingdoms!

QUESTION NO. 32

Hello Mario,

I dare to write to you and ask for help because I would like to know if I received the implant. I was very fearful when I asked for it some time ago (2 or 3 years), but I believed that whether as I asked with fear or conviction, I would be heard.

My life has taken a different turn as far as my affections and responsibility since my two children are now living with their respective fathers (a teenager of 17 and a girl of 7). My son had lived with his father before but my girl is special, she was born with a motor skill disorder, which has impeded any learning, she is still in pre-school.

I have struggled to understand this situation, mainly how to best help my daughter because, I admit, I'm fearful, even though I know that she is the one who has opened the road to spirituality and the never ending search for me. What worries me at this moment is whether my daughter should be with his father who never has shown much interest in her? I always felt alone with the great responsibility that are my children and I asked Spirit for help. Is this the help I asked for?

My children were always my excuse for not meditating or attend workshops. Is this the Spirit's way of showing me that there are no more excuses? How do I deal with the guilt about my children not being with me, and at the same time the relief I feel knowing that I am no longer the only one responsible for them? Could it be that I should not have been their mother?

I understand that my children are channels of light and are doing a job in each one of those homes where they are now, or is this my excuse to justify my absence?

N. – Venezuela

ANSWER NO. 32

Dear N,

God's time is always perfect. We are not guided by the human calendar to give you an answer. Therefore, we bless your healthy disposition to receive unconditionally.

Consciously asking for the implant activates it. You already did this, you manifested your will to activate your life lessons and experience whatever you've had to face. You were very courageous in recognizing your spiritual lineage and your mission. From there on, you are paving the road as you go. This means that you are drawing your own map. What a challenge, isn't it?

Just as you asked, things are happening in your life, that are taking you to roads never traveled, where there are no signs to guide you.

That's how you humans are. Even though you complain about the way your lives are going, your inner self always knows what is best, and that is how co-creation happens, which is an integration of your personal agendas with Spirit's vision of a larger view.

What happened in your life is your own creation, dear. Don't be afraid of the unknown. Learn not to be afraid of your own steps, of your own creations. You asked for help to raise your child and you got it. You asked that your child's father assumed some responsibility and you got it. You asked for more time for your spiritual practices and you got it. You consciously asked for more time and freedom to grow. Spirit co-created with you. Do you still doubt co-creation works? Do you understand why you are the true alchemists of your own reality?

Don't judge yourself, we don't judge you. You chose the path your inner self was yearning for. It was a decision made with the heart. You made a good decision. So, enjoy it now as much as you can and when you decide that is time for change, do it, because nothing lasts forever.

You have your own agenda and is planned by your heart. The potentials are infinite. It's enough to know that your eyes can rest on something, wish for it for the miracle to happen. So, dear N, let your eyes roam without restriction and allow them to travel without fear.

Don't be afraid of anything. Fear is a major source of stress but it can also be your greatest friend if you come to understand that it is a great teacher. And so it is!

QUESTION NO. 33

I want to ask what you think about the young people who chose to do drugs. Aside from what I read about psychology, what the psychologist tells me or of the responsibility of us as parents, I wonder why their spirit chooses that path. It's hard to understand and to support them in that process. This also forms part of my own growth, I asked for truth in my life, etc.

N. – Venezuela

ANSWER NO. 33

Dear N.,

It's all a matter of personal choice, related to the need of the entity to experience and learn from that experience.

At the same time, is also related to the different experiences that connect humans with one another. We have explained this on different occasions and Spirit has explained through many channels.

The drug experience is hard for those who experience it as well as for those involved with the user in one way or another; it's important that you understand that both, user and relative, are united by a karmic bond that placed them on the two faces of one coin.

In short, the one who is not addicted needs to learn to love without judgment, while the addict needs to experience the opposite of something he might have judged or condemned in another life.

Both protagonists of the story are now joined in a bond that generally goes back and that needs to be cleanse in its very essence, that applies to any kind of general learning that comes from a similar situation; low self-esteem, self-destruction, disdain, condemnation, abandonment, understanding, compassion, etc.

QUESTION NO. 34

For many years now, I have searched for something that I didn't know what it was. This brought me to metaphysics, then quantum mechanics, Yoga, Tai Chi, and finally Reiki, which I love.

I am a healer, however, because I don't have the right locale, I have not gotten the wheels in motion; I only treat family and friends. I work with the pendulum, laying of hands and energetic massage. Now that I was able to purchase my massage table, the car broke down. I had to borrow money here and there to pay for repairs.

I would like to ask Kryon what is going on with me, because since 2001 my finances have not been the same since. It has been hard. I love my work as a healer, but at the same time, I cannot leave my underpaid employment since I help support my family.

M.

ANSWER NO. 34

Dear M.,

There is no doubt that you have heard the inner calling to evolve spiritually through the desire to help others. This calling has made you go through different learning paths, where you have chosen the tools and techniques you need to help others heal.

You are blessed for answering that calling foreseen in your potentials. It is appropriate. However, dear, that is not all...

Your main mission is to learn to co-create concrete realities that represent material growth in your life, through the use of your own productive tools.

In short, you should learn to recognize your productive potentials so that you can put them in practice in an efficient and effective way. What I am saying is that you should learn to combine your desire to help others with your own productive tools.

The hurdles that you talk about are just that: cyclical stumbling blocks that appear periodically to bring new attitudes in humans so that they can leave behind what does not work.

I advise that you try to always see beyond appearances, trying to see what is causing these apparent stumbling blocks. These blocks are the key to making the necessary adjustments, mainly if they have something to do with a tendency to stand out or to be recognized for your work. Ask yourself if what you do is born out of that unconscious desire or if you are simply following your heart.

We bless you for you desire to serve others!

QUESTION NO. 35

Hello Mario!

I'll be brief! Kryon has said that it is always now on the other side of the veil. Human logic tells me that it's possible for you to know what's going to happen because "you are living it," but Kryon always says that is impossible to foretell exactly what is going to happen, only the probabilities. Why is that so if they live in the now where everything has already happened?

L. – Chile

ANSWER NO. 35

Dear L.,

You are blessed for placing this question about the now and its infinite paths on the table!

The now, for us, is a point from which we see all the possible perspectives of what is and what could be. In fact, everything that is right Now could be modified in a split second because the possibilities to select any other action are infinite.

When we see the now, we don't see "what happened" we see what is happening simultaneously. Therefore, we know all the possible outcomes you could steer. You, on the other hand, in your Now you see what happens, you imagine a very small portion of what could have happened, and can only see what happened after "it has happened."

The interdimensional concept of the now allows us to place ourselves in any perspective with all its implications. When you begin to have doubts about what to do, we already know what possible paths you could take because they are laid out before our non-human eyes.

Putting it in a way you can understand, we see it as if we were watching numerous scenes happening simultaneously and you are the protagonists in all of them.

All the scenes are happening at the same time. They are all in the Now. For us, all the scenes represent the multidimensionality of your spiritual essence. All the scenes are happening at the same time, because they are in the matrix of the cosmic grid, weaved one with the other, the cause and the effect.

Our advice has always been that you try to understand that there are no good and bad decisions. They are all decisions that activate magnificent teaching potentials. So, if you feel overwhelmed by the magnitude of a vision you cannot sustain, try to feel like a gambler playing roulette.

Place your bets and pay to watch!

We bless you, dear L.

QUESTION NO. 36

Beloved Kryon, I greet you from my heart.

Some time ago you gave me an answer that greatly helped me center my energies. Today, I would like to share my joy for being part of this great change we are experiencing. I have been able to deal with the body aches, (three days in bed, one unable to move), and a horrible burning sensation in my solar plexus, back and head, and honor every moment because of my total conviction that everything is being stirred up within me for the greater good.

Blessed Kryon, what saddens me a bit is to confirm what you talk about in one of your books, this spiritual rage, when you speak of the gap between the old and the new energy. I have been part of it, and I have seen, with great sadness, how some people are angry when you declare a truth that does not make sense to them. I am not surprised at the number of people still clinging to the old ways.

In any case, I know that I mustn't let my energy stagnate and I must move forward. Are these blessings truly only for the few? What is wrong with these people! I feel some frustration because it's obvious that when we begin to see the other aspect of this non-reality, we would like for everyone to feel the same way, but I understand that everyone has his own process. In any case, blessed of the Universe, I ask for a bit of guidance.

C. – Chile

ANSWER NO. 36

Dear C.,

The blessings of Spirit are for all, not just a few.

Spirit blesses each and everyone one of you every day of your lives, because you are all God's seeds. The living essence of God is living inside each one of you, and therefore, you are all blessed from the day you are born in this wonderful plane you now inhabit.

You are specially blessed for your courage and valor for picking up the glove of the earthly challenge. You are specially blessed for having accepted to live in complete darkness not knowing who you really are. And you are specially blessed for taking the risk in this game of polarity of never remembering all your magnificence.

Blessed be for remembering, dear, and blessed be for helping others remember with your attitude. You only need to be, and by being you can get others to recognize their great potential and to see that they also are always blessed by the great family they don't remember.

QUESTION NO. 37

Kryon,

I know you are in the place where we come from, before we descended the seven planes and now that we are raising our consciousness, we are returning home.

My question: I feel that something grand is going to happen within me. Is there some special recommendation so that I can perfect the work I do?

L.

ANSWER NO. 37

Dear L.,

We will answer your questions through the unified energy of Kryon and Its channel.

The numbers you have repeatedly seen are indicators that have to do with the balancing of your sense of initiative, your security in the effective solidification of everything you do, trying to be more analytical and reflective in your daily life. What I just said has to do with the need to reconcile your dreaming stage with the rest, mainly with the daily challenges you are forced to face.

It's necessary that you utilize this time to prepare yourself, the knowledge you gather today will be useful tomorrow when you will have to go through important changes. You said it yourself. Important things are going to happen in your life. The potential exists. You just need to activate them through a balanced attitude in all the areas I pointed out.

QUESTION NO. 38

My name is M., I am 51 years old, separated, with three wonderful children who are 28, 24 and 10 years old. I worked very hard for 22 years, until June of 2003 when I was fired from my Human Resources job in a private company. I used love my job, even though it was very stressful. I knew that I was supposed to be there and I did my job to the best of my ability up until my last day.

In the search for my spiritual life many years ago, I was poking within myself, getting to know and healing myself. Also getting to know the hand of God that I have experienced as being extremely protective and generous, I am grateful every moment for what I have, for what I think and for who I am. Even when I am fully aware of my imperfections, I know that's where my learning and my strength are. I learn to love my limitations, not to judge myself and try to correct my mistakes every single day.

I have healed myself and I continue to do so. I am certain that I am holding the light. In general, my life is harmonious, my relationships are loving and I have everything I need, but I do feel as if Spirit has separated me from everything lately. I haven't had a salaried job since 2003 and my love life is less than successful. I have a loving and harmonious relationship with the father of my youngest child, and even though we are separated, I feel great affection for him. I believe that my children's fathers are wonderful men. I chose them and I don't regret having shared my life with them. I love them for that.

And even though I have a palace for a home –I am a millionaire and fortunate enough to enjoy all the material things I need- I know that I am in a waiting period. Since the year 2002 and up until three weeks ago, I was president ad honorem of the Centro de Padres Y Apoderados (CPA) [TN: similar to PTA] a task I carried out with great joy, knowing I was there for a reason and I accomplished my mission. However, I resigned from my position as soon as I saw the signs indicating it was time to leave, so now I find myself "fired" again.

Knowing that there is something precious within me, I humbly want to ask my beloved Kryon to give me some guidance, since he knows how much I miss home, but also knows of my love for Gaia and my decision to stay here, to hold the light in this wonderful place called Chile. But I know that I'll go wherever I need to go. It's a wonderful thing to experience learning, to observe how, as I work on myself, nature and everything else reflect that.

Dear Mario, I wish to communicate with Spirit and ask that It gives me some guidance so that I can do whatever I have to do in order to fulfill my contract, so that I can serve my brothers and sisters. I know that, aside from my personal relationships, my mission here is a much bigger one and I need to work on it. I know that everything I have ever done, I have acted according to the divine plan. But I must forge a new path now and I ask my beloved Kryon for guidance.

ANSWER NO. 38

Dear M. ,

Your letter is very extensive, and while our channels have asked that you keep the questions brief and direct, I blessed the length of your letter because by the telling of your life, your vision of it and the way you go about it, it shows –specially to those who are now reading it- that we are in the presence of a true beacon of light.

Being a beacon means that you light the way for others.

Your job in Human Resources placed you in a position where you could intervene in the life of others in a very powerful way, because you had the power to make decision and give guidance to others. Your light lighted the way for others until it was not necessary any more.

In your personal life, you have experienced different kinds of love and this, believe me, it's a blessing, because you have loved and have been loved in different areas of learning. Through your romantic love you have experienced filial love, a love that you have extended to others through your position in CPA.

Believe me, dear, because your journeys have been intense, it's necessary to pause before you embark on another journey. When you come to understand that pauses are necessary, Spirit intervenes with Its own agenda of co-creation by co-creating moments of inactivity needed to revise and integrate everything you have accomplished so far, so that you can evaluate and assimilate...always with your eye on new tasks.

Therefore, allow yourself this time to assimilate and evaluate. Heal your emotions, let your physical body recover and just wait for the next train to come to your stop with a new assignment, the stop you have created through the manifestation of your intention to continue to be a beacon of light for others.

There is a time for everything and the potentials are already there. Just allow the cause and effect of your actions to realign again for a new journey.

Your letter is a perfect example of an enlightened being who knows that she will serve the Divine Plan wherever she is. The scenarios don't matter, what matter is your intention when you serve others.

Blessings!

Kryon
